

Whose shoes?

Feet, feet, feet! A shoe is just a house for your foot.

Draw the shoes for these characters to get you going. Think about the environments they live in and what they need their shoes to do...

Everybody has shoes, but what do they do?

- Shoes can protect your feet from extreme temperatures, sharp ground and stop wild animals from nibbling your toes.
- Shoes can make you taller or help you move faster with wheels or rockets.
- Shoes, like slippers, can warm you up and relax you.
- Flippers can help you swim.
- Tap dancing shoes make a lot of noise!
- Clowns use their shoes to make people laugh
- Climbers use their shoes to grip the walls of skyscrapers.
